Respect and Kindness

We're spending quite a bit of time these first few weeks learning about how to show respect to others, ourselves, and things. We've included kindness as part of being respectful and we're looking for ways we can be kind at school and home. In addition, we're working on ways to solve small problems when someone hasn't shown kindness. These problem solving skills are useful at both school and home.

- Sept. 30—Jogathon

Pastor Troy has given us a class challenge for this year. He brought us a giant map of the world and asked us to pick any place in the world, look up a church in that city/country. Then write them an encouraging letter from our class and pray for them. We wrote our first letter to an Adventist church in Kiev, Ukraine. Join us in praying for them this month.

This Week -

For our few days this week we're learning more about kindness, respect, and problem solving. We're making towers of kindness and doing some charade activities modeling problem solving strategies. Ask your child about the strategies we're learning!

Thank You!

Thank you so much to everyone that helped make our pancake breakfast such a success by sending things or helping with cooking and cleaning up. We had such a good time and it was a special event for our class.

Katelynn and McKenzie make great math partners!
